Other comments

- It's good to have change. The services do not just become a matter of rote. Pay more attention to what is being said and done.
- I come to Mass every Sunday. I enjoy the Mass. We would like to see a [??] for the mike. Thank you and God bless you all.
- It is good to have a change of format from time to time. Repetition is not always the way of doing things.
- Re the creed – it may be a really trivial point but I am uneasy about the version we used today. I know what I believe but I do not know what other members of the congregation believe or whether they may have strong doubts over certain of the beliefs mentioned. To affirm before God that we believe, when some oof the congregation may not does give me unease. The original Creed (Prayer Book) version starts 'I believe' and with this I am completely happy.
